Interests

Traveling

Since I was a kid I always dreamed about visiting a lot of different places in the world, but after living abroad, my passion just grown stronger.

Learning

In every area, but mostly in IT area every day you have to learn something new or re-learn in a new way what you may already think you know to keep current and this is what I'm passionate about.

Casual gaming

Who doesn't like chilling with friends talking about random stuff and immersing yourself into new worlds, new campaigns and having a lot of fun?
